

Ogunnaike Awarded the Warren K. Lewis Award

Congratulations to Babatunde Ogunnaike, former CACHE Trustee and recipient of the 2018 Warren K. Lewis Award. The award, sponsored by ExxonMobil Research & Engineering Company, recognizes contributions to chemical engineering education.

The award was presented to Ogunnaike at the Fall AIChE meeting “for exemplary dedication to and leadership of the educational mission, provided through outstanding instruction and mentorship and through textbooks combining creativity, clarity, and rigor.” Babatunde A. Ogunnaike is an AIChE Fellow, the William L. Friend Chaired Professor of Chemical Engineering, and former Dean of the College of Engineering at the University of Delaware.

For a full listing of award winners, descriptions of the awards, and bios of the winners, visit: <https://www.aiche.org/chenected/2018/10/2018-annual-meeting-honors-ceremony-recap>

Babatunde A. Ogunnaike (center) with Chair of Awards Selection Subcommittee Juan de Pablo (left) and ExxonMobil's Douglas Kushnerick