

CACHE ELECTS NEW AND HONORS OUTGOING EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The CACHE trustees meeting held this summer concluded with the election of a new executive committee. Furthermore, the outgoing executive committee members were honored for their service to CACHE.

The outgoing executive committee consisted of:

President: Michael A. Henson, UMass

Vice President: B. Wayne Bequette, RPI

Executive Director: Thomas F. Edgar, UT Austin

Secretary: Robert Hesketh, Rowan University

The incoming executive committee (2018-2020) has the following members:

President: B. Wayne Bequette, RPI

Vice President: Ed Maginn, Notre Dame

Executive Director: Michael A. Henson, UMass

Secretary: Jonathan Moore, Dow Chemical

A special thank you goes to Tom Edgar who has served in the role of Executive Director of CACHE since 2000(!). Under his leadership, CACHE has served membership of over 140 academic institutions (U.S. and international) and over 20 industrial affiliate partners. Several initiatives during Tom's service have aided in the success of the CACHE organization, particularly the creation and oversight of the CACHE website, which now includes teaching resources and education modules in 16 subfields, and the creation and wider distribution of the semiannual newsletter.

Mike Henson (right) presents a plaque to Tom Edgar (left) commemorating his many years of service to CACHE. Tom has served as the Executive Director of CACHE for the last 18 years.

Wayne Bequette (left) thanks Mike Henson (right) for serving as CACHE president for the last two years. Mike will take over the role of Executive Director.

Wayne Bequette (left) thanks Robert Hesketh (right) for serving as secretary of CACHE.