

Message from the Editors

In this second online issue of CACHE News, you should observe several new features. For example, a “Reflections” column that we hope to include in each issue. We request that both faculty and industrial practitioners in the Chemical Engineering computing community share their musings with our CACHE member universities.

The Section on "News from the Chemical Engineering Departments" is also a feature that we plan to include in each issue. We invite all Departments of Chemical Engineering to inform us about any news that is associated with their departments, including new computing facilities, recent Ph.D. theses, or new undergraduate computing courses and approaches.

Finally we hope to keep everyone informed about the CACHE Research programs in the CACHE Conferences Section.
